Burgess William G. Weaver said today that approximately eight persons will face charges before a justice of the peace for failure to "pay-up" on parking violations last year.

A check made at the beginning of this year showed about 100 motorists had not paid their "$1" for overtime parking during the prior year. Notices were sent and all but eight of them have "made settlement" for the "red tickets" issued them for overtime parking and other parking violations.

The eight who failed to comply will be charged before a justice of the peace today, Burgess Weaver said, and will have a fine and costs to pay.

"In Fairness To Members"

As a "convenience" to motorists and to remind them that parking regulations are made to be obeyed, the town assesses a flat $1 fine for overtime parking and similar violations for which motorists are given red tickets by police.

Weaver said that a check is being made now of those who received red tickets during March, April and May and those who have not yet paid their $1 for those tickets will be sent second notices this month. Failure to pay upon second notice leads to the charge being taken before a justice of the peace.

Weaver said the action is not taken to harass individual drivers, but that, in fairness to those who have "joined the $1 club," all violators should pay.

16 Doctors Threaten To Quit In Dispute With Administrator

EBENSBURG, Pa. (U-P)—Doctors of Miners' Hospital at nearby Spangler opened a court fight today against an attempt to stop them from resigning in a controversy with State Sen. John J. Haluska (D-Cambria).

Sixteen doctors making up the hospital's staff say they'll quit Thursday unless Haluska, hospital administrator, resigns or is fired by the institution's board of trustees.

The trustees asked President Judge John H. McCann of Cambria County last Wednesday for an injunction to forestall the threatened walkout. Judge McCann ordered the doctors to show by today why the injunction should not be issued.

But Judge McCann won't hear the case. He withdrew Friday, saying he is ill, and requested the State Supreme Court to name a substitute. The high court appointed President Judge John J. Penta of Clearfield County. Cambria County's other two judges are on vacation.

The doctors issued their ultimatum after it was reported that Haluska planned to establish a cancer clinic at the hospital under the direction of Harry M. Hoxsey of Dallas, Tex.

FREE . . . TO BE RESPONSIBLE

This is the title of the Publisher's page in the July issue of The American Magazine which deals with the trial of John Peter Zenger, weekly newspaper editor, more than 200 years ago. The article follows:

The first major victory for freedom of the press in America was achieved in 1735, forty-one years before the American Revolution, when John Peter Zenger, a weekly newspaper editor of New York, won his freedom on a charge of criminal libel.

He died July 28, 1744, too soon to become a Revolutionary hero, but before the significance of his victory was apparent to other editors.

That freedom of any kind imposes a serious responsibility on all who enjoy it, and that it includes no license to be irresponsible, was clearly recognized in an editorial, appearing only six years after the Zenger trial, in America's first magazine, The American Magazine of 1741.

In 1734, John Peter Zenger was the "independent, truculent" editor of the New York Weekly Journal. For publicly criticizing the abuse of power by the British governor of New York, he was charged with criminal libel and thrown in jail.

Finally, after ten months, Zenger was brought before the court, only to have his lawyers disbarred. Several months later, when the trial was resumed, new defense counsel pleaded for the right of the jury to inquire into the truth or falsity of the statements published by the editor.

Over protests of the court, the jury returned a verdict of "Not guilty," and editor Zenger was again free to put constructive ideas in print for the good of his (Continued on Page 2)

Calif. Police 'Book' Force Job Applicants

COMPTON, Calif. (AP)—Applying for a policeman's job here amounts to an offense.

An economy-minded police department uses regular booking forms for applicants since the facts required are pretty much the same as those needed for law violators.

In the space where it asks the nature of the violation is placed: "Police applicant."

The Open Jumper won carried with it a $20 purse and the Jumper Stake triumph added $35 more.

Wilson Clapsaddle, Gettysburg R. 1, riding Golden Lady from Little Valley Ranch, won a $20 purse as first place winner in the Western Trail class and another $20 purse for placing first in the pole bending class. 2ND SIAMESE TWIN EXPIRES

LONG BEACH, N. Y. (AP)—A baby boy, separated from his undeveloped Siamese twin in an attempt to save his life, died today about 12 hours after the emergency operation.

A hospital spokesman said an autopsy was planned for later in the day to determine the cause of death.

Efforts to save the life of the 8-pound, 15-ounce baby at Long Beach Memorial Hospital were reported by Hospital Administrator William A. Kozma.

The child was attached at the breast bone to a withered, undeveloped twin. Kozma said no vital organ appeared to link the two and only a small blood vessel joined their circulation systems. The undeveloped twin weighed less than a pound, he said.

The twins were born in a normal delivery late Saturday night to Mrs. Julia Seitz, 25, of Cederhurst, Long Island, Kozma said. About 16 hours later the delicate operation was started.

Kozma said the staff had been able to find only one other similar case in medical history.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

THE Camera COLUMN

By Dave Garfinkle

Quite often we find ourselves in situations where we'd like to take pictures but don't have proper lighting. We're prone to forget that any light, even that from a candle, is sufficient for picture making, if we expose long enough . . . keep the shutter open long enough for the weak light to act upon the film.

It's easy to take good pictures under ordinary home lighting. Average home lighting conditions require these exposures. Set your lens stop at f16 (this is the speed of the average box camera) and, in dining rooms with medium colored walls, expose for about 20 seconds; in bedrooms with medium colored walls, about 40 seconds; in the living room or kitchen, 20 seconds if walls are medium, 30 seconds if they're light colored.

These exposures are based on medium speed film, such as Verichrome or Plus-X. Cut the time in half if your camera is loaded with high speed panchromatic film such as Super XX. And to get these exposures more accurate for the next time, do a little experimenting. Make one exposure with the times given above, one at half this exposure and one at twice this time. Keep a record of these exposures and compare the final prints.

You can make a portrait with ordinary lights, too, assembling a total of about 200 watts placed about 3 feet from the subject. And for perfect accuracy in exposing, under any kind of light, get an exposure meter from our choice of models. MODERN QUOTES REFLECT PAGE OF CENTURY

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—"It is a rather pleasant experience to be alone in a bank at night."

Now who would say a thing like that? Well, as a matter of fact, Willie Sutton, the notorious bank bandit, tossed off the remark while philosophizing on the rewards of a career that has kept him behind prison bars most of his life.

It is one of several thousand quotations collected by Jim Shepherd and Ann Gillis, the sprightly lady who bosses NBC's Who Said That?, the most durable of all TV panel quiz programs.

Addition To Bartlett

Feeling that Bartlett did a good job for his day but that someone ought to also preserve the antic wit and gilded wisdom of the current generation, Shepherd and Miss Gillis are bundling together for book publication the quotations they feel best reflect our times.

Most books of quotations lean too heavily on poets and politicians. Miss Gillis and her co-worker have a more cosmopolitan approach. They see no reason why a really witty observation by a gangster—or a housewife—shouldn't be preserved by posterity. As a result, their volume promises to reflect the real mental life of our recent past more accurately than a formal history.

Here, for example, are a few gems from their collection which should help give posterity some kind of insight on the kind of human beings who dwell in the middle of the 20th century:

"A committee is a group that keeps minutes and loses hours"—Milton Berle.

"May the Lord bless you real good"—favorite benediction of evangelist Billy Graham.

"Politics in the diversion of trivial men who, when they succeed at it, become important in the eyes of more trivial men"—George Jean Nathan.

On Age

"Age is no matter . . . You can be ravishing at 20, charming at 40, and irresistible"—Mme. Chanel, French performer.

"Behold the turtle: he makes progress only when his neck is out"—James B. Conant, former president of Harvard.

"Washington is a place where half the people are waiting to be discovered—and the other half are afraid they will be"—Rep. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

WILL REVIEW DEATH FINDINGS OF PATHOLOGIST

CHICAGO (AP)—The evidence on which a coroner's pathologist suggested foul play in the death of Montgomery Ward Thorne will be reviewed today by four other experts.

Some police officials and other pathologists have disagreed with the conclusions of Dr. Harry Leon in the mysterious death of the 20-year-old heir to a nearly two-million-dollar mail order fortune. Dr. Leon attributed death to a combination of narcotics, sleeping drug and wood alcohol, administered by someone else.

Thorne's body was found on the bed of his apartment after he failed to keep an appointment with Miss Maureen Ragen and she could not reach him by telephone. Nine hypodermic needle punctures were found in his arms and a needle and syringe were found taped to the ceiling of a clothes closet.

Miss Ragen, 18, who said she and Thorne were to be married in December, was the principal beneficiary in a new will Thorne made nine days before his death. Young Thorne, named sole legatee in his original will, was cut off with a one-eighth share in the second will, which gave Maureen one half and her mother one fourth.

A court fight is in prospect over the estate between the Ragens and Mrs. Thorne.

Officials who disagreed with Dr. Leon's report believe Thorne died either of self-administered drugs or of an acute pancreas ailment.

PADDLING CANOE IS FUN IF YOU LIKE TO SWIM

By The Associated Press
Canoeing can be fun, especially if you like swimming.

The prospective paddler who keeps that phrase in mind will be saved the shock of experience. For while it's possible for a veteran to stay dry for years while operating a canoe, it's much harder to stay dry while becoming a veteran.

For purely recreational use, the canoe has developed quite a repertoire from the days when accessories were limited to a ukelele. To be sure, most lakeland resorts in the U.S. and Canada still are equipped with old-fashioned canvas canoes as little to be depended upon as the sweet nothings spoken in them of a summer eve.

Aluminum Craft
But science has caught up with the whole business. Tops now for all-around vacation uses are the aluminum craft, as light and portable as canvas craft, but immune to termites, rot and other nuisance. Most of these vessels are unsinkable unless punctured and virtually upset proof.

In addition, they have attachments that allow use of outboard motors and even leboards and mast for inland sailing, as well as oars for people who want to be sensible on lakes. Cost of a rig like this can run up close to $500.

As a means of transportation, however, and for those who really want to get away from the hurly-burly of a trip down a wilderness waterway, the canoe is first choice just as it has been since the first redskin figured out what to do with birchbark.

Best design for river craft hasn't changed much since then, either. Working canoes are a little wider, a little deeper and a little heavier than the 50-pound bubbles best for play.

Push-Pole Upstream
A 17-footer in this class can carry two persons and supplies for three months, if well chosen. And experts who spurn the use of motors can travel upstream as well as down, although in current of four miles an hour or more the push-pole is mightier than the paddle.

Whatever use the beginner aims at eventually, he'll find some rules basic. Don't beach a canoe by driving it ashore. Even on sand, just take it in until it touches, then step out and life in. On rocks, of course, don't let it touch.

When loading it with people or otherwise, have it floating free. Keep heavy loads—and a canoe will carry terrific loads—low in the craft. If you spill when you don't expect to, hang onto the canoe because it won't sink.

And every time you're tempted to change places aloft, remember how much you like swimming.

Ignore Report That Queen Is Expecting

LONDON (U) — Buckingham Palace maintained its customary silence today on a New York newspaper report Queen Elizabeth II is expecting her third child. Court sources said so far as they know, the report is unfounded.

The sources commented the Queen has not canceled future engagements. Such cancellations would be an almost sure sign the monarch is expecting.

British newspapers said scant attention to the report in the New York Daily News.

The Daily News in a copyrighted story from London last night quoted "Buckingham Palace sources" as saying Elizabeth is expecting early next year. The news added that "only last week two additional doctors were appointed to the palace staff."

FOUR-POWER PACT DRAFTED

LONDON (U) — American and British diplomats have worked out a short, four-power treaty that would give West Germany near-independence this year, official sources said today.

The pact has been drafted as a way of giving the Federal Republic powers to control most of its own affairs in case France fails to ratify the project for a European Defense Community. Under present treaties the United States, Britain and France would end their occupation of West Germany only when EDC comes into force.

The latest British-American plan reportedly would grant sovereignty to West Germany in all but military matters in a treaty signed by the United States, Britain, France and the Federal Republic.

The winner was Larry S. Adams, 17, of Connelville. He will represent Pennsylvania in the 1954 national teen-age Road-e-o contest at Washington, D. C., August 10-14.

Here And There

News Collected At Random

readers. And 41 years later, the ideas to which he had subscribed had spread through the colonies, and inspired the people to create a new nation.

We are grateful that it was The American Magazine which first emphasized that freedom of the press must be accompanied by responsibility. In 1741, three years before John Peter Zenger's death, the first issue of The American Magazine carried an editorial on the significance of his trial.

"While we are zealously endeavoring to promote the Liberty," wrote the editor of the first American Magazine, "we shall as carefully avoid contributing to the licentiousness of the press. We have here particularly in view Defamatory Libelling as it comprehends the ideas of Falsehood and Scandal combined together."

"The promoting of the Liberty of Mankind comprehends the highest Acts of Benevolence that we can possibly exercise toward our fellow creatures. . . . The Press, under right Application, has been found to have an admirable influence on magistrates, restraining them in the bounds of their duty."

The editorial went on to quote the counsel for Zenger as telling the court that "if the Faults, Mistakes, nay even the Vices of a Person of public Character, be private and personal, and don't affect the Peace of the Public, or the Liberty or Property of our Neighbour, it is unmanly and ungenerous, to expose them either by Word or Writing."

And then, Zenger's counsel declared: "It is natural, it is a Privilege, I will go farther, it is a RIGHT to which all Freeman are entitled, to complain when they are hurt. They have a Right publicly to remonstrate the Abuses of Power in the strongest Terms, to put their Neighbours upon their Guard against the Craft or open Violence of Men in Authority, and to assert with Courage the Sense they have of the Blessings of Liberty."

These historical quotations are not generally known. So far as I can determine, this is the first time they have appeared in print since that 1741 issue of The American Magazine. Nevertheless, we think the arguments presented are as valid today as they were when Zenger won his freedom 219 years ago.

The American Magazine today, as in 1741, accepts its freedom—and its responsibility to you, the American public.

HOME SEWERS FIND PLASTIC MODELS HELPFUL

By The Associated Press
It may be somewhat startling to see yourself in plastic, but it's an experience more and more women are having these days.

Home seamstresses who take their dressmaking seriously find indispensable a dress form reproducing the actual lines of their own figures. Here's how it's done.

First the fitter at your local sewing center gives you a tight-fitting cotton knit sheath, something like the top of a fencer's suit, which clings to every curve of your body. Then she takes caliper measurements to determine depth and width, and takes your individual figure measurements.

Contour Mold

Measurements completed, she applies malleable thermoplastic material to your shirt-sheathed body in four sections—two in front and two in back. This literally follows every contour of your figure, as the operator's expert fingers smooth the plastic material into your exact shape.

The molding takes about a half hour, then the plastic form is cut at shoulders and sides and lifted from your body. It is sent away to be finished—that is, it receives several coats of paint, gets a covering of knit shirting material, is taped at the sides and waistline and mounted on an adjustable stand.

The finished dress form is delivered to your home in a few days, ready to be your dressmaking "stand-in."

Dad Will Appreciate Italian Style Shirt

The new Italian-designed shirts are widely distributed throughout this country, and have a subtly different look. They are done in handsome fabrics and restrained colors, distinguished in cut, comfortable to wear.

GERMANS GREET YOUNG PRINCESS

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD
BONN, Germany (U) — Princess Margaret arrived here today to pay British royalty's first official visit to the West German government. West Germany welcomed the visit as a sign of equality with Britain and that the occupation is nearing an end.

During her strenuous four-day tour — much of it by helicopter — the 23-year-old sister of Queen Elizabeth II also will visit British army, navy and air force units in the British zone of Germany.

In a flowered dress with matching hat, the smiling Princess stepped from her special plane to be greeted by a 21-gun salute and German and allied officials.

500 Police Line Route
Five hundred police lined the 18-mile route as she drove from the airfield to Bonn to call on West Germany's general, 70-year-old President Theodor Heuss. He was her host for lunch at his official residence alongside the Rhine.

After a three-hour visit to the West German capital, the Princess was to take off in a helicopter for the first stop on her tour of military units.

In all she will make nine helicopter hops, a total of 5½ hours aloft covering more than 300 miles.

In a statement welcoming the Princess, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government said her call at Bonn demonstrated the federal republic's equal place among the Western nations.

JAPAN WON'T PERIL "UNITY"
TOKYO (U) — Japan hopes to bolster its sagging economy with non-strategic trade with Red China, but not at the expense of "the unity of the free world" against communism, the Foreign Office source said today.

The source saw no prospect of Japan establishing diplomatic relations with Russia or Red China in the near future.

These views were the first semi-official reaction to the findings of Govs. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania, Dan Thornton of Colorado and Allan Shivers of Texas, who recently surveyed the Far East for President Eisenhower.

The governors suggested in Washington last week that Japan needs trade with Red China "so restricted and so regulated that it will develop a program of self-subsistence for Japan and not build up Red China's war machine."

The Foreign Office source termed this a realistic finding and added Japan wants only to trade with Red China as much as Britain and West Germany, who it feels have led in cementing Chinese trade with the West.

Churchill Wanted Hydrogen Bomb Data
LONDON (U) — Prime Minister Churchill said today he went to Washington for his conference with President Eisenhower because he "was deeply concerned at the lack of information we possessed" about the hydrogen bomb.

"I thought I ought to have a personal meeting with President Eisenhower at the first convenient opportunity," the 79-year-old Prime Minister told the House of Commons.

Murmurs of approval echoed through the House.

Churchill said a speech about the hydrogen bomb by Sterling Cole, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, on Feb. 17 had astonished him.

Odds On National League Soar To 8-5 As Americans Lose Reynolds And Garcia

By JOE REICHLER

CLEVELAND (U) — Two 11th-hour changes in the American League pitching staff have caused the odds on the already favored National League to soar to 8-5 today for tomorrow's annual All-Star Game.

Nobody here could recall when one league ruled such a prohibitive favorite over the other, even during the years when the power-packed American League captured four straight from 1946 through 1949.

Now, on the eve of the 21st clash, the shoe is on the other foot. Not only does the National own a four-game winning streak but it has most of the long-ball hitters.

Managers Mum
Until New York's Allie Reynolds and Cleveland's Mike Garcia were declared physically unfit, it appeared the American League's seemingly superior pitching might offset the National's numerous home run hitters.

Reynolds' legged off because of a pulled groin muscle and Garcia was excused because of a ruptured blood vessel in a finger. In their places, Manager Casey Stengel chose Sandy Consuegra, crafty Chicago White Sox right-hander, and Irv Noren, currently hot Yankee outfielder. Noren probably will see action only as a pinch hitter.

Both managers — Stengel and rookie Walter Alton — were mum concerning their pitchers but the expected crowd of 65,000 in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium probably was due to see a battle of right-handers — at least during the first three innings.

Probable Starters
Based on the starting lineups, which are predominantly right-handed, and by process of elimination, the field narrowed down to Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phillies and Bob Keegan of the Chicago White Sox as the opposing hurlers. Both will be well rested by Tuesday. Keegan has done no pitching since Friday, nor has Roberts except for a brief mop-up job Sunday.

The only other well rested pitchers are the Yankees' Whitey Ford and the New York Giants' Johnny Antonelli. Milwaukee's Jim Wilson, who replaced the injured Haddix, does not figure to start. Ford and Antonelli are left-handers. Roberts, although sporting a subpar (for him) 11-8 record this season, is a veteran All-Star competitor. He was the starting pitcher in three of the last four games all winning ones for the National League. Keegan (12-3), a sophomore, is enjoying his first outstanding season in the majors.

May Upset The Dope
Stengel, the all-winning World Series wonder, who has yet to triumph in four All-Star games as manager, may upset the odds and start Ford against the National League lineup, which is packed with left-handed power as represented by Stan Musial, Duke Snider and Ted Klusowski. But Ford (7-5) has had a spotty season. Dean Stone of Washington, his only other available southpaw, is strictly a gamble.

All Stengel's right-handers, with the exception of Keegan, worked either Saturday night or yesterday. Baltimore's Bob Turley, Cleveland's Bob Lemon and the White Sox' Virgil Trucks pitched yesterday. Washington's Bob Porterfield and Consuegra were on the mound Saturday.

Alton Is Better Off
Alton appears in a better way for pitching. Should Roberts start, his second pitcher, in all likelihood, will be Antonelli, whose 13-2 record is the best in either league. After Antonelli, the Brooklyn pilot can come back with Mervyn Grissom, the Giants' ace relief right-hander, or southpaw Warren Spahn. Milwaukee's veteran southpaw, who has three All-Star game performances under his belt, Spahn pitched Saturday.

Right-hander Gene Conley of Milwaukee and Carl Erskine of Brooklyn, who saw action yesterday, don't figure to be called on unless absolutely needed. Wilson also pitched yesterday.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
PITCHING — Billy Pierce, Chicago White Sox, set the Cleveland Indians back with two hits for a 3-0 victory in the first game of a doubleheader.

BATTING — Don Mueller, New York Giants, singled, doubled, tripled, and homered in five at bats in the Giants' 13-7 first game victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Season a couple of cups of cooked rice with a half teaspoon of chili powder and a half teaspoon of garlic salt. Serve with hamburgers or meat loaf.

After a homerun with a runner aboard in the top half of the first inning gave Mummasburg a 2-0 margin, Harney tabbed a run in its half of the inning and added the tying run in the eighth only to have Mummasburg tally the winning marker in the ninth.

Greenmount put together two big innings, the second in which they scored six times, and the fourth in which four more runs resulted, to wallop Huntertown 11-1 at Huntertown. The winners rapped two Huntertown hurlers for 17 hits, including three each by J. Pissel and H. Green. George Kennell poled a homerun for Greenmount. Huntertown garished seven blows, three by J. Hankey, including a double.

Wenksville remained two and one-half games back of the league leader by blanking Brushtown 7-0 at Brushtown.

Bonneauville jolted Taneytown 8-4 at Taneytown and as a result Bonneauville, Wenksville and Brushtown are deadlocked for second place, all two and one-half games back of the league leaders.

Eastern League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pair of porters today could claim credit for keeping the defending-champion Reading Indians in the thick of the Eastern League pennant race.

The Indians used lefties Hank Aguirre and Roberto Vargas yesterday in a doubleheader at Williamsport. Aguirre beat the predominantly right handed hitting Grays, 5-0, and Vargas turned the trick in the extra-inning nightcap, 4-3.

The victories moved Reading into fifth place, 1½ games ahead of the Grays and 4½ behind the leading Wilkes-Barre Barons.

The Barons took a two percent age point grasp on first with a 6-2 triumph over the host Allentown Redbirds. The victory displaced the Elmira Pioneers, who split with visiting Schenectady. The Blue Jays took the opener, 4-1, but Elmira's Doug Gostlin turned in a three-hitter to win the nightcap, 2-1.

Third-place Albany entertained the Binghamton Triplets, who trail the Senators by 1½ games, and won the opener, 7-6, before the Triplets rebounded in the second game 2-0.

Tuesday's Game

Lions vs. G. L. Bream Garage, 6:15.

In one of the most thrilling Little League games of the season, the Rotary edged the Lions 5-4 in three extra innings Saturday afternoon and thus kept a winning streak alive.

In the first frame, the Rotary sent in three runs on two hits in the second. Kenworthy got on by way of an outfield error, went to second on a ground out, March walked and both runners came across on Keith Johnson's triple. Heikkinen singled to score Johnson. The Rotary Club then went scoreless up to the seventh.

The Lions broke into the scoring column in the third. With two out, Kime singled and McCartney walked. Hull got on base via an infield miscue which sent Kime home. The Lions knotted the score in the fourth by driving in a pair of runs. Hankey doubled, R. Weikert walked and singles by Kime and McCartney completed the scoring.

Both Score In 7th

Both teams tallied runs in the seventh. The Rotary got Jay Hartzell on by a walk while Heikkinen and Bricker also secured bases on free passes. A fielder's choice sent in Hartzell and put the Rotary in front temporarily. In the bottom of the seventh Thomas and Hankey singled while Zhea blasted out a double to send in the tying run and lengthening the game.

Hartzell walked for the Lions in the ninth. Heikkinen got on via a fielder's choice and scored on Dickie Dreas' single home with the winning run.

Jaakey Heikkinen led the winners at the plate by knocking out a pair of hits. Hankey and Zhea topped the losers via collecting three hits each. Carl Johnson, after relieving his brother, Keith in the seventh, received the win. Johnny Ahrens, coming in after the Lions used two other pitchers, is charged with the loss.

ONE HUNDRED YEARS AGO

Celebration Of The Fourth: The Students of Pennsylvania College met at 8 1/2 o'clock a.m., in front of the college building, to be formed into procession by the Marshals—Messrs. L. H. Croil, and B. D. Zwieling; whence they proceeded to Spangler's Spring, for the purpose of celebrating the Fourth. S. A. Holman was the President.

When the exercises were finished, the meeting formed into a procession, and proceeded through town to the "Eagle Hotel," where, after a few concluding remarks by the President, they adjourned sine die.

Married: On the 10th inst., by Rev. Mr. Dencker, Mr. Henry Butt to Miss Anna Bigham, both of Cumberland township.

The Treaty With Japan: This treaty, it is stated, provides for the commencement of trade between the United States and two ports of Japan on the 25th of March next, one year from the day it was signed. The Honolulu Friend says:

The treaty is in four languages—English, Japanese, Dutch and Chinese. It is signed by four Princes of large provinces in the kingdom. The dignitaries who were present during the negotiations were men of education and refinement.

On the part of the Japanese commission, it was at first much inclined upon that the United States government should allow a treaty stipulating that no American lady should ever visit Japan! So preposterous a demand was not countenanced, for a moment, by the Gland Commodore Perry.

Destructive Fire: On Wednesday night last a fire broke out in the National Theater at Philadelphia, which proved terribly disastrous. The fire originated during a performance by someone on the stage attempting to light a match by rubbing it against the scenery. The whole interior was soon in a blaze; the audience being thin, all escaped with their lives. The fire spread to the buildings all around, and a large number of first class stores were destroyed, as also the Chinese Museum building. The loss is estimated at half a million of dollars. Mr. R. A. Shepard, an actor, was burnt to death.

SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
The ladies of the Hunterstown Presbyterian Sunday School held an ice-cream festival in the Great Congregational Church on Saturday evening, July 5.

Dr. E. K. Foreman has been made leader of the Littlestown band.

Married: Huber-Titus; July 1, in this place, by Rev. Dr. Hay, J. Harry Huber, of Waynesboro, to Miss Nellie C. Titus, of this place. Haverstock-Blair; June 25, by Rev. D. M. Blackwelder, Howard L. Haverstock, of Straban township, to Miss Alice S. Blair, of Butler township.

White-Clemson July 8, in Littlestown, by Rev. E. D. Weigle, John F. White, to Miss Ada Clemson, both of Carroll county, Md.

Death Of John B. McCreary: John B. McCreary, a wealthy and extensive coal operator, died in Philadelphia on Thursday. He was born in Adams County, Pa., in 1818, parties began wending their way to and after leaving. He was a merchant at New Oxford and vicinity at Tremont and York Sp. In 1845 he leased a coal tract known as the Swatara colliery, and continued to operate it until 1857 when he leased a tract of some 1,200 acres of land in Carbon, Schuylkill and Luzerne counties and opened three collieries on it. In the same year he took into partnership Jacob A. Myers and in 1858, L. Mumper, under the title of J. B. McCreary & Co. This understanding has developed into one of the most extensive coal mining establishments in the world. In various business operations he amassed a large fortune. Mr. McCreary was a liberal contributor to religious and benevolent enterprises.

He married a daughter of the late Geo. Deardorff, of Latamere township this county, who survives him, with two sons and a daughter.

Died: Dickinson; July 10, in (Ad.) Gettysburg Springs Hotel.

Today's Talk

LAMPS ALONG THE WAY
I like to see lighted lamps along a beautiful street or avenue at night. It makes me think of the lamps along life's highway—friends as lamps, books, all nature at night lighted by the stars in the firmament.

I like to think of many a teacher I had in school who was like a lighted lamp to me when I so much needed direction and encouragement. Though many of them have gone to their reward, the lamps they lighted in my mind and heart still brightly burn.

Every important experience is like a lamp lighted for guidance, for it is by experience that we learn most of our good lessons. Every outstanding poet or writer is a lighted lamp for those who would be guided and directed by the light.

Every book in my library I look upon as a lamp. I open it and read, and there is light about it. I can close my eyes at night before being lost in sleep and the light from that book still shows bright. It may have been the story of a famous person, a novel with a soul to it, or a book like the essays of Montaigne in which the author wrote as he felt, and largely revealed all mankind through the example of himself.

As a boy in a small Midwestern town I used to get a great kick out of walking behind the town's street lamp lighter. As each light was lit that much more of the street would glow. Thanks to Edison, his genius finally succeeded in giving light to the entire world. If it were not for these lamps along the way, think of how we would stumble, lose our way, and often be, filled with fear. The lighted lamp has a silent voice but its leadership is always evident. There is a feeling of safety with lamps along the way. We can even be one of those lamps ourselves, guiding someone else to his or her safe destination.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "On Forgiving" Protected, 1954, George Matthew Adams Service

THE HAIR-DO
A woman has a weight of care. But sure am I 'tis truth I state: Her greatest problem is her hair And a beauty parlor date. She may neglect the beds to make, She may not stay the floors to sweep, But you can wager any stake That hair appointment she will keep.

She may, as every husband knows, Be late when asked with him to dine, Be late for football games or shows; Told eight o'clock, arrive at nine; She may some morning over-sleep And let her household duties wait, But you can bet on her to keep On time that hair appointment date.

"My hair's a mess!" she'll say, and add: "It's time to Marilyn I went. It's been two weeks since I've had A hair trim and a permanent. I'm booked today from ten to three." When ten the town clock starts to chime It's ten to one that she will be To get that hair-do right on time. Copyright, 1954, by Edgar A. Guest

The deceased was born in St. Mary's County, Md., studied law and at one time occupied a prominent position at the Maryland bar and in Washington City. He was a member of the Maryland legislature from 1834 to 1840. Several years ago he came to Gettysburg on account of impaired health. For a time he was much benefited by our mountain air and the Katalysine water. Some months ago, however, there was a change for the worse, terminating in his death on Thursday.

The Fourth: There was no special celebration on the 4th in Gettysburg. The day was ushered in by the ringing of bells and the firing of a salute of musketry under the direction of Corporal Skelly Post. At an early hour numerous picnic parties began wending their way to the woods and during the day, which was intensely hot, the town wore the aspect of a quiet Sabbath.

Hot: On the 4th inst. the mercury in this place registered 100 degree in the shade, the hottest day of the season and a figure seldom reached in this place.

Ex-Sheriff Taughinbaugh, now of Hartford City, Indiana, was in town last week.

Miss Nannie Hersh Chippinger, niece of Mr. Wm. M. Hersh, took the prize, a gold medal, at the recent commencement of Bishop Bowman Institute, Pittsburg.

PANAMA NAMES PRETTY GIRL TO DIPLOMATIC POST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Young good-looking Anita Ramirez-Duque is the only woman diplomat in Washington to hold the rank of counselor. Panama has just appointed her to that post.

The tall, sylph-like brunette, who is in her early 30s, began her diplomatic career here in 1939, first serving as an attaché. Soon she was made first secretary. In that capacity she acted seven times as charge d'affaires, taking over the duties of Ambassador de Huertematta during his absences from the country. The only other woman who has served as chief of a mission here is Mme. Pandit, who was India's ambassador before becoming a delegate to the United Nations.

Newspaper Girl
Senorita Ramirez-Duque first came to Washington with her mother when her brother, now Dr. Jorge Ramirez-Duque entered Georgetown University Medical School. She and her sister, Mildred, attended Holy Cross Academy here. After studying psychology at George Washington University, she took a course in journalism and for a time was correspondent—in two languages—for a large Panama newspaper.

"When you are in charge you take care of a lot of things, ranging from all kinds of requests from Panamanians in the United States to an exchanging of notes between missions and, of course, protocol," Miss Ramirez-Duque told me. "A counselor also is kept very busy, so busy I hardly have the time to get around to all the official parties I'm expected to attend."

Still Unmarried
She has even less time for romance, she says. "It's all right though," she explains. "I'm not too fond of parties, and I'm married to my country." Miss Ramirez-Duque, daughter of a Panamanian lawyer, concedes, however, when the "right man comes along" she'll probably get married. "That's a woman's primary wish—to have a home and children—and it's her most important role," she said.

While she favors tailored clothes for the office, the young diplomat says she loves ultra-feminine evening clothes. Swimming is her favorite sport. She used to play tennis but has not had time to keep in practice. She also loves dancing.

Mont Alto Man Is Killed In Accident

MARTINSBURG, W. Va. (AP) David W. Barnard, 23, of Mt. Alto, Pa., was fatally injured Saturday night when his car went out of control near the city limits, struck a utility pole and turned over several times.

State Police T. W. Harrison said two troopers were searching for the car on a report that it had forced four other vehicles off the road when they were called to the accident scene.

He quoted witnesses as saying the Barnard car was traveling very fast when it crashed. The accident occurred on U.S. 11, about three-tenths of a mile south of Martinsburg. Barnard died shortly after being taken to a hospital. He was alone in the car.

7 KILLED IN ISRAEL-EGYPT BORDER FIGHT

JERUSALEM (AP)—Another flare-up on the tense Israel-Egypt border costing the lives of six Egyptian soldiers and one Israeli posed a new problem today for the U.N. Palestine armistice commission.

Reports of the latest incident issued yesterday as the commission issued a statement blaming both Arabs and Jews for the June 30-July 2 shooting across the no-man's land dividing Jerusalem.

The commission is scheduled to continue its discussion on that fray today. Both Egyptian and Israeli sources accused each other of setting off the new skirmish which broke out Saturday night near Gaza.

Egypt accused Israel of armed aggression at the frontier post of Deir Elbalah and demanded an emergency meeting of the armistice group. A detailed charge made in Cairo said besides the six Egyptians killed, four were missing and two wounded.

An Israeli spokesman said one Israeli soldier was killed and two wounded in an Egyptian attack on an Israeli patrol near the Gaza strip.

IKE PLEASED WITH DECISIONS OF CONGRESS

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower says he feels pretty good about the way Congress, almost evenly divided among Democrats and Republicans, has treated his program. The full treatment won't be known until Congress winds up its work, perhaps at the end of this month.

Eisenhower wants the voters in the November congressional elections to judge his Republican administration by the kind of program Congress enacts.

Here is the record to date:

Passed by both House and Senate and now law:

American participation in the St. Lawrence seaway; extension of the Reciprocal Trade Act for one year; a defense pact with South Korea; creation of an Air Force academy; extension of major excise tax rates and cutting of others; providing two billion dollars for highway construction; and increasing the borrowing power of the Commodity Credit Corp.

Passed by both houses but with differences which require compromise before final passage which seems assured in some form:

A general overhaul of the tax laws and a housing act. The Senate gave Eisenhower most of what he wanted on housing; authority to build 35,000 public units a year for four years; continuing government-insured loans on homes; and use of one billion dollars for slum clearance. The House, which had acted ahead of the Senate, wanted no part of the 35,000 public housing units. Whether the House will yield now and go along with the Senate is not known.

Passed by one house and therefore not law unless the other also approves:

The 3 1/2-billion-dollar foreign aid bill; the farm bill; the wire-tapping bill; and the social security bill.

The House has passed the foreign aid bill. The Senate hasn't voted yet. But it seems pretty sure Eisenhower will get a sizable chunk of the 3 1/2 billion dollars he asked.

Farm Bill Victory
Eisenhower won a victory, not yet complete, when the House approved the farm bill with recognition of the principle that there should be a sliding scale—82 1/2 to 90 per cent of parity—on farm price supports for basic products.

Supports have been at 90 per cent for years. It's uncertain whether the Senate, when it votes, will go along.

What Eisenhower asked for and hasn't got so far:

Reinsurance on private health insurance; statehood for Hawaii; revision of the Taft-Hartley Act; a constitutional amendment permitting 18-year-olds to vote; and revision of the Atomic Energy Act to permit this government to give allies more atomic information.

Daily newspapers throughout the world have a total circulation of 217,174,490, according to an estimate by the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization.

GOVERNORS TO DISCUSS CURBS

BOLTON LANDING, N. Y. (AP)—The Governor's Fuel Conference was slated to discuss import curbs on low-grade residual oil at a luncheon meeting at the National Governor's Conference today.

Gov. John S. Fine of Pennsylvania called for strict curbs on the import of such oil yesterday as a boost for the nation's ailing coal industry. Fine told a newsmen he would urge the conference to press congress for a quota system to cut imports of residual oil by about two thirds.

Fine is chairman of the conference which is composed of governors of 26 coal producing states.

At present there is no limit on imports of the oil, but a duty of five cents a barrel is imposed.

Fine said it was essential to "revive the demand for coal" to relieve widespread unemployment in both hard and soft-coal-producing areas and to keep the coal industry in good condition for national defense purposes.

Rooms — Six
Bedrooms — Three
Closets — Seven
Cubage — 15,600 ft.

The inviting front door opens on a small hallway with open archways leading to the living room on the left, and to the den or dining room on the right. Two windows in the front wall provide abundant light and ventilation for the 18' x 13' 4" living room.

Centered in the left wall, the fireplace is another very attractive feature of the living room. If this room is to be double-duty as a dining room, place your dining set near to the long unbroken back wall. This location also will be more conveniently near to the kitchen than any other place in the living room.

Den-Dining Room
Measuring 11 feet square, the den or dining room receives light and ventilation through one window in the right wall and another in the front wall. If this room is to be used as the dining room, build china cabinets into the back corners; if it is used as den the right wall could easily accommodate built-in bookshelves. This room also could be used as a guest room, if you so desire.

Instead of a back door, "The Aron" boasts a side door; this opens into a small hallway containing a general purpose storage closet and leading to the 12'x11' kitchen. While carefully planned so that every inch of space is used to make kitchen tasks pleasant and easy, the kitchen still contains space for a good-sized breakfast nook.

Working counters are arranged along the left, back and right walls of the room with the stove at the left end of the array and the refrigerator at the right end. The sink is centered under the double windows in the back wall. Another window in the right wall, provides extra light and ventilation for the breakfast nook.

You'll find plenty of storage space for your brooms, mops, dusting cloths etc. in the broom closet in the front kitchen wall. The door in the left kitchen wall opens on the hallway connecting with the lavatory and the first floor bedroom.

Ample, lighted and ventilated by one window in the back wall, the lavatory contains a special built-in shower compartment. The large linen closet opens on the connecting hallway between the lavatory and the bedroom where it is conveniently near for changing linen or towels.

Cross ventilation and good lighting are assured in the 11-foot-square bedroom for there is one window in the back wall and another in the left wall. The large closet in the right wall can easily accommodate the storage needs of two people if this room is shared.

Second Floor
On the second floor of "The Aron" there are two more bedrooms, an abundance of storage space and a bathroom. Because the first floor of this house contains complete living facilities, you do not have to have the second floor completed at the time of original construction but can leave it go until you need the extra space.

for this house and all other "Home of the Week" designs are available at moderate cost.

Wee Hollywood Artist Gets Cocktail Reward

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif.
—Carol Koplin, 4, sometimes gets a colored fruit drink as a reward for good behavior, with the understanding that it's a cocktail to be enjoyed with Mom and Dad.

When she appeared on her parents' television show to sing a song, they told her if she sang well she'd get a cocktail right after the program.

Carol sang well and as Dad told the audience that Hollywood youngsters were really no different than any others Carol yelled for all to hear, "Daddy, I want my cocktail."

WOMEN GROOM HAIR AT HOME SURVEY SHOWS

By The Associated Press
The do-it-yourself craze has gone to most women's heads. A survey of more than 1,500 women concludes that 96 per cent of them regularly do their own hair grooming.

Hair care includes shampooing, conditioning, setting, massaging and use of tonics and home permanents. According to the survey, prepared by a beauty institute, many women feel personal hair conditioning is practical.

Sixty per cent of the women questioned live in urban areas, 40 per cent in rural sections. Income seemed to have little influence on the frequency of home care: 32 per cent of the women were over the $5,000 bracket, 31 per cent from $3,000 to $5,000, 37 per cent under $3,000.

Prepare Differently
Wide differences are shown in methods of using hair preparations successfully. Some women use them before or after shampooings, and some between washings.

Recommended by the institute is a pre-shampoo treatment with a pure petroleum hair tonic and a hot oil method which calls for steaming the head with hot, wrung-out towels.

The national survey, which took six months to complete, reports many women make the mistake of dousing the head with oil. Tonics should be used sparingly, just enough to lubricate the dry ends and give the hair gloss.

Customs in hair care vary with age, dwelling and geography, the survey shows. Home grooming is more popular with Westerners and Southerners, farm women and women over 30 years old.

City-dwellers, young women and Easterners tend more toward professional hair care.

BRITISH FOLK SAY TELEVISION HARD ON TEETH

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Now the British dentists are concerned about the new unpleasantness they call "television teeth." It afflicts children of television homes and is caused, as I understand it, by the little ones getting so wrapped up in whatever it is that British children look at instead of Hoppy, Roy, Gene Howdie Doodie that they clench their teeth, and make them crooked.

I hear American dentists have already accused the channels as despoilers of teeth. Maybe not so much lately because they are campaigning busily against lollipops—at least, some of them around these parts protested when it was planned to give away free lollipops to divert children from the needle when they got their anti-polio shots.

TV Versus Sugar
I know MY dentist, when my mouth is stuffed with equipment is much more interested in asking me questions about my sugar consumption than my viewing habits.

British television, like British radio and British films, is probably different from ours. But if television is injuring anybody's teeth in this country, I'd say it was the adult's. And I'd also say the injury wouldn't come from clenching teeth in rapt concentration but from grinding them in sheer, frustrated anguish.

Agonizing TV
I sometimes think I'll be down to the gum line after another year of stoically paying the price for entertainment by suffering some types of commercials.

I also suffer serious dental trauma from the smooth and smiling young people who go into ecstasies when they take a sip of instant coffee. I lick a spoonful of ice cream, quaff a glass of beer

Camera News

Pin-up poses are enhanced by smooth curves and the graceful lines of arms and limbs; they are marred by harsh angles and opposing lines. Don't have the subject's arms or legs bend to form right angles to the camera.

Minimize Bulges
To avoid the appearance of added body bulk, don't let the elbow touch the body at the waistline. Arms, too, should cross the body above or below the waist for, a slimmer silhouette.

Support weight on the arm or leg farthest from the camera. To slenderize the hips, they might be angled away from the camera. Hands can express grace by the way the fingers curl. An object should be held, not clutched. Their worst angle is with the flat back or the flat palm facing the camera. A hand shouldn't disappear in the sand or a beach blanket lest it look amputated.

A bathing beauty's expression is an important part of the picture and must be carried out by both face and body. A gay look and a tense body are not a convincing combination. This is apt to happen if awkward poses are held too long. It might be better to relax and redo the pose several times in order to catch a spontaneous combination.

Composition—aided by natural framing devices: arches, columns at sides, windows, branches and leaves at top.

Backgrounds—that's the stuff you don't see when you snap the picture but it juts out of people's heads in the print. Look twice—once at the scene, then at the background. If it's bad, shift the angle.

Use People
Use people—and get personal—it's your vacation, for static scenery you can buy a postcard. But posing shouldn't be obvious and avoid having people just looking at the camera. They can look at the view, road signs, study maps or be engaged in some natural action.

Even violent action can be caught at its peak, if you watch for it (the top of a swing), so you can forget the expression, "Hold it!"

At instant of shooting, hold camera STEADY. Press against cheek or chest, hold breath and squeeze button gently.

Always turn film to next number immediately after shooting. Make it a habit and there'll be no worry about double exposures or being ready for the next picture.

Include Identification
Avoid the tendency to put off shooting because "there's lots of time!" Suddenly, it's the last day and the film has to be shot up in a hurry, good shooting weather or not. Shoot when weather permits, starting immediately. If better angles come along later—take it again.

Use a series or tell a story of your trip in pictures.
Mark Down Data

More Food Than Fluid In Nutritious Watermelons

Though watermelons may seem to consist chiefly of a delicious juice, they actually have a lower water content than asparagus, celery, cucumbers and lettuce. Moreover they stand drouth better than other vine crops.

In addition they are rich in minerals and vitamins and have a high calorie count, so if you are reducing, make them part of the meal, and not merely the dessert. Even in northern states, where they get a late start in growing, there are varieties of watermelons which can be ripened before frost.

Watermelons are usually grown in hills, which may be as close together as three feet each way in small gardens. Such close spacing is likely to reduce the size of the fruits, and more room should be given where possible. Seeds should be sown in warm soil, and if the nights continue cold it may be desirable to protect the young plants at first with waxed paper tents.

Heavy fertilizing pays well with this crop. As much as a pint of balanced plant food may be mixed well with the soil beneath each hill before the seed is planted. Or use a shovel of well rotted manure, and half a pint of plant food. Sow ten seeds to the hill and thin out to the two strongest plants that develop. Do not harvest watermelons until they are ripe, as they improve in flavor very little after they are picked. It takes some study to determine when a melon is ripe, without "plugging" it. Thumping is one test, ripe melons giving a dead flat sound, green ones a ringing sound. The color of the spot where the melon lies on the ground usually changes from greenish white to yellow as it ripens.

The same insects and diseases that attack muskmelons and cucumbers may attack the watermelon. If your garden has grown watermelons at any time during the last five years, a wilt resistant variety should be used.

On The House

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Air filters have become very important items of equipment in modern homes. They are more important than window screens in houses that are air conditioned. They save a lot on housework and add a lot of comfort in homes with circulating warm air heat. They strain dust, dirt and pollen out of the air, but they have to be renewed for maximum efficiency.

Replacing an air filter in a warm air heating plant or air conditioner is about as simple as putting a new bag in the garbage can. And most filters are cheap, costing about the same as a carton of cigarettes. The reason you have to change them is that less and less air will pass through them as they trap dust and dirt. You can't get your money's worth in heat or in cooling with a choked up filter.

Disposable Filters
So this is a good season to put in new filters. The smart man has his heating plant cleaned and readied for fall as soon as the heating season has ended. This minimizes corrosion from accumulated soot. And with several million room air-conditioners now in use, it's wise to keep them at top efficiency.

Most disposable air filters are pads of glass fibers coated with dust-catching adhesives. There are at least five manufacturers of type, so they are easy to find. Then there are two or three makes of paper filters. All you have to do to determine your type and size is to look at it and read the label. Between 85 and 90 per cent of all filters in use are disposable.

When a salesman says that air conditioning will help to relieve hay fever and other respiratory troubles, he's talking about the constant air filtering that takes place. Yet few owners of air conditioning units realize this. Even one-room window type air conditioners contain filters.

Incidentally, if the sale of window and console type air conditioners increases this year only at the same rate that it has in the past several years, more than a million and a half units will be added in homes before Christmas. According to the trade magazine, Air Conditioning and Refrigeration News, sales grew from less than 30,000 in 1946 to 1,075,000 last year.

BYRNES URGES SHOWDOWN BY ALLIES NOW AT GENEVA TALKS

By JACK BELL
BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina today advocated the return of American representatives to the Geneva conference for an Allied showdown on Indochina.

Byrnes, former secretary of state, who is here attending the 48th annual Governors Conference, said in an interview he does not believe the United States can afford to stand aloof and thus risk being blamed before the world for failure to reach a settlement with the Communists.

"We could refuse to participate in any surrender agreement," he said. "But I think our representatives ought to be there to make our viewpoint known. If there is a final breakdown in efforts to get an acceptable agreement, I don't think the British and French should be able to charge it to our absence."

Looks To Nixon
Dulles has hesitated about going back to the conference table because of possible domestic criticism of the results, and the fear of American involvement in enforcing some settlement which would be regarded in this country as a French surrender to the Communists.

There was a possibility that Vice President Nixon, substituting here for President Eisenhower, might give the governors in a closed session later in the day the administration's latest views on the Indochina situation.

The President canceled an appearance because of the death of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower.

To Be On Radio
Nixon is scheduled to speak at the annual state dinner tonight.

The speech will be broadcast by radio at 8 p.m., EST. ABC scheduled a "live" broadcast, and NBC and CBS scheduled recordings at 9:30 to 10 p.m., EST.

EX-MODEL WINS OVATIONS AS BULLFIGHTER

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP) — In the language of the bull ring, former Broadway model and actress Bette Ford has much courage, bravery and beauty — but her ability is undetermined.

The 23-year-old, curvaceous Miss Ford headed back to Mexico City today for more training to correct a trait that led her under the horns and hoofs of a vicious Mexican bull yesterday and to four narrow escapes.

Bette, from McKeesport, Pa., made her formal bullfighting debut in the Juarez Plaza de Toros, just across the Rio Grande from El Paso, Tex.

Thundering Ovation
She received accolades from the severe audience for her courage, and to a bullfighting fan that's everything.

The United States repeatedly has made it clear it would stand aloof from any "sell-out" to the Communists in Indochina.

Despite Dulles' firm message, however, there was a general feeling in Western circles that either Under Secretary of State Walter Bedell Smith would resume leadership of the American delegation or some other, high State Department official would be sent for the fateful negotiations ahead.

Make-Or-Break Week
Mendes-France faced a make-or-break week. He has promised the French National Assembly to achieve a cease-fire in Indochina by July 20 or resign.

The French Premier now has seen all three Communist leaders participating in the negotiations here — Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Vietnamese Foreign Minister Pham Van Dong, and Red China's Premier Chou En-lai.

The Vietnamese foreign minister has clung tenaciously to his demands for withdrawal of all foreign troops from Viet Nam, Vietnamese entry into a coalition government and national elections arranged to give the Communists all the breaks.

CRUCIAL WEEK FOR FRENCH AT GENEVA PARLEY

By LYNN HEINZERLING
GENEVA (AP) — French Premier Pierre Mendes-France entered the crucial week of the Indochina peace negotiations today uncertain of full U.S. backing.

Two American envoys told the French leader yesterday that Secretary of State Dulles would not back up the French by returning to Geneva himself unless he saw signs that the Communists were ready to negotiate in good faith.

U. S. Stands Afoot
Reliable sources said this was the message given Mendes-France by Alexis Johnson, acting head of the U.S. delegation at the Geneva conference, and C. Douglas Dillon, U.S. ambassador to France, at their meeting here yesterday.

ocratic wrath recently because he has blamed the former Democratic administration for the loss of China to the Communists, contending that the Korean War and present difficulties in Indochina stemmed from this event.

Should Forget Politics
However, Gov. Dan Thornton, Colorado Republican, said in a prepared welcoming speech that the time has come for Americans to forget politics in dealing with the Communist international threat.

"In the final analysis," he said, "this is a battle of ideas between Americans and those who would destroy us — not a battle between Democrats and Republicans."

"Certainly the bullets of any aggressor will not distinguish those of one political affiliation from those of another. Certainly, amid the hue and cry and emotions of political campaigns, we must realize the common problem and the mutual goal of all Americans."

HAVE you been thinking you can't afford a new Buick? Listen:

If you can afford any new car, you can afford a Buick—and we boldly show our price here to prove it.

Look again, and you'll see that this is the local delivered price of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan. Compare, and you'll learn that this price is just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three."

But—dig a little deeper if you want the real clincher. That's when you find that those few dollars more you pay for a Buick buy you a lot more automobile.

They buy a whale of a lot more power—Buick V8 power—plus the new economy of Power-Head combustion.

They buy a lot more luxury and comfort and solidity—more room, more glass area, more frame strength, more tread width, more ride steadiness—including the million dollar "feel" of all-coil springing and torque-tube stability.

They buy, too, the most advanced styling of the times, and the great panoramic windshield, and the surety that such fresh-

Is it any wonder, then, that Buick now outsells all other cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three"?

Come in for a demonstration—this week, for sure. And learn, in the doing, what a big trade-in allowance our volume sales can bring you.

LINCOLNWAY EAST

GETTYSBURG, PA.

"The luck of the Irish," she drew two stubborn, hard-to-work bulls which offered her nothing but trouble and little or no opportunity to show the results of her year's training.

Her training now will concentrate on correcting a tendency to crook her arm in the intricate cape work, instead of holding it extended. That crook led to the bull getting too close to her four times yesterday and she narrowly escaped being gored.

But after each incident, she bounced back to the fight, a display which won from the crowd a thundering ovation and a call for a "vuelta," a ceremonial and triumphant tour of the ring.

Voter's Request Is A Job For A Swami

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—Mrs. R. O. Fortenberry, Mecklenburg Board of Elections clerk, reports a man telephoned her to inquire "Am I registered?"

"I'll see," she replied. "Where do you live?"

The man gave an address, and Mrs. Fortenberry selected the appropriate registration book. "What is your name?" she asked him.

"That," said the man, "is information I wish to withhold."

Mrs. Milton S. Eisenhower, wife of the president of Pennsylvania State University, died in State College, Pa. She would have been 50 on Aug. 14. Her husband, youngest brother of President Eisenhower, and the couple's son, Milton S. Jr., were at her side. (AP Wirephoto)

FLOOD VICTIMS GIVEN SUPPLIES BY NEIGHBORS

By RICHARD O'REGAN
VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Relief supplies for thousands of homeless victims of central Europe's worst flood in centuries poured into stricken Austria and Germany today.

Holland, Sweden, Switzerland and the Saar were the first to offer bedding, food and clothes to thousands of families made homeless by the raging Danube and a dozen tributaries. Their five-day rampage has claimed at least 24 lives on both sides of the Iron Curtain.

The aid began to arrive as rescue workers struggled to reach submerged Austrian and German towns where inhabitants were still stranded on rooftops and upper floors. More than 3,000 American soldiers have been taking part in the rescue work.

Smithy Closes Shop, Breaks Link To Past

ROCKFORD, ILL. (AP)—Rockford's last blacksmith shop has closed. Gust Djupstrom, who remembers the day when three smiths in his shop shod 88 horses a day, has extinguished the last flame in the forge. The 63-year-old shop will be torn down.

Old-timers who congregated daily at the blacksmith shop to exchange stories of the past recall the time a man unable to find a place to tie his horse took it to a nearby saloon and ordered schooners of beer for himself and the horse.

and Budapest radios said Communist authorities had ordered entire farm communities evacuated and that many hamlets were under water and crops destroyed.

It was not known what the death toll was in the two Iron Curtain lands. Nine deaths were reported last night in Communist East Germany.

In West Germany, skies cleared and flood waters began to subside, but thousands of acres of rich farmland were still under water. Countless houses, bridges and industrial plants were damaged — some beyond repair.

CAPITAL HOSTS RELAX SUMMER HEAT PROTOCOL

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—As the social season lengthens into summer, Washington hostesses are beginning to let their hair down, bypassing the stuffy protocol and formalities which they followed rigidly during the winter.

I was astonished to receive two engraved invitations to which it was indicated the "RSVP" could be made by telephone. One of these came from the wives of the Cabinet members inviting me to a tea honoring Mrs. Richard Nixon, wife of the vice president. The other came from Lt. Gen. Danilo Lekic, the Yugoslav military attache, and Mrs. Lekic for cocktails.

Call From Romulo

I even got a telephone invitation from the Philippine Embassy to a reception that Gen. Carlos Romulo, the Philippine president's special and personal envoy to the United States was giving for the U.S. ambassador at Manila, Adm. and Mrs. Raymond A. Spruance.

Protocol was completely done away with at a small but elegant dinner given by popular bachelor Ambassador Athanes Politis of Greece for 44 guests. The men drew blue slips from a crystal bowl, and the ladies pink ones to find who their dinner companions would be at the gaily-decked tables for four.

Dinner was buffet-style, with guests helping themselves to wonderful dishes prepared by the Ambassador's highly-talented 18-year-old chef de cuisine, a chap called Metzoz. There were smoked turkeys, rare roasts of beef, hot pilaf, or rice rings, filled with chicken livers delicate pastries filled with creamed spinach or Greek cheese, watermelon halves filled with mixed fruits, caviar, salads and sweets of all kinds.

Early Departure

The Pakistan ambassador and Mrs. Ali are also setting a pattern for informal entertaining—inviting guests for 7 o'clock dinner and allowing them to leave as early as 9:30 p.m. Their recent dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Nixon also was served buffet style.

Guests included Secretary of State and Mrs. Dulles; Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

Mrs. Douglas MacArthur II, daughter of former Vice President Allen Barkley; the ambassador of France and Mrs. Bonnet; famed D.C. hostess Perle Mesta; the Australian ambassador and Lady Spender, Sen. Russell Long (D-La) and lady; Reps. Frances Bolton (R-Ohio) and Marguerite Stitt Church, (R-Till).

It would take the work of a million men to repair the damage done in the United States by insects.

In the event marketing quotas are turned down, wheat would be supported at 50 per cent of parity. No penalties would be imposed for excess acreage, but a farmer would have to stay within his allotment to receive supports.

STATE FARMERS VOTE JULY 23 ON WHEAT QUOTAS

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania wheat growers will decide July 23 whether they want Federal marketing quotas on the 1955 crop.

An estimated 17,000 state farmers are eligible to vote in a nationwide referendum to determine if they want rigidly controlled production and high price supports or free production and low price supports.

At least two thirds of the eligible voters must approve the quotas to put them into effect. To be eligible a farmer must plan to plant 15 or more acres of wheat for the 1955 crop.

In a similar referendum last fall less than a fifth of the Commonwealth's eligible farmers voted on quotas. Slightly more than the required two thirds favored them both in the state and nationwide.

Provide Penalties

If quotas are approved, wheat prices would be supported at parity price levels in effect next year, but penalties would be imposed on farmers failing to comply with their wheat acreage allotments.

Wheat is now supported at 80 per cent of parity—about $2.24 a bushel on the average. Parity is the price of a product declared by law to be fair to the farmer.

be in effect regardless of the outcome of the referendum.

Acreage Allotment

The national wheat acreage allotment is 55 million acres—seven million less than for 1954.

In addition, the government this year has established a "total acreage" allotment. The total allotment includes all allotments fixed for price supported crops. It includes 1953 acreages for all other crops except grasses, pasture or idle land.

The measure was taken to keep farmers from planting land diverted from price supported crops in other cash crops that would place stress on farmers would face a penalty of 45 per cent of parity for wheat produced on acreage beyond their allotments if the marketing quotas are approved. In addition, the farmers would not be eligible for

Air Base Radar Set Will Foretell Weather

RANTOUL, Ill. (AP)—A radar designed especially for weather observations is being installed at Chanute Air Base. It will permit students and forecasters to scan clouds within a 250-mile radius of the base.

Similar equipment is to be installed throughout the United States, Brig. Gen. Thomas S. Moorman Jr., chief of the Air Force's Air Weather Service, says.

ATOMIC PLANTS BACK TO NORMAL AFTER STRIKE

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—Operations have returned to normal at the atomic energy plant near here today with striking workers back on the job.

A strike threatening production of atomic and hydrogen bombs was called off Saturday when members of Local 600, IWO Gas, Coke and Chemical Workers, voted to return to work immediately, reversing a previous decision to continue the walkout.

The Paducah employees followed the example of strikers at the Oak Ridge, Tenn., plant who voted Friday night to end their walkout.

4,500 Were Involved

One thousand workers at Paducah and 3,500 at Oak Ridge were involved in the strike.

A plan for settling the walkout was worked out in Washington by Secretary of Labor Mitchell and CIO President Walter Reuther. It calls for a government review of health, housing and community problems of all the nation's atomic workers and a study to strengthen labor-management relations in the atomic field.

The peace plan did not mention the wage issue, over which the strike was called.
